

Spencer Attends Rug Convention

Jack Spencer, owner of Spencer's Rug Cleaners, will attend the annual convention of the Rug Cleaners Institute of California in Sacramento.

Members of the organization from all over California will meet in Sacramento at the El Dorado Hotel for a three day event beginning on Sept. 22.

Preceding the convention, rug cleaners will sponsor a state bowling championship bowling match at Mardi Gras Bowl to determine the best team in the state.

Official program begins Friday, when Mayor James McKinney will welcome the delegates, presenting a key to the city to President Henry B. Fischer. McKinney will be made honorary member of the group.

Speakers at three day conclave will include Harry Gross, Newark, N. J.; Cecil Treadway, Chicago; Wallace Carling, New York; Ed Atiyeh, Portland; Robert Coleman, National Institute of Washington, D. C.; James Creamer, Connerville, Ind.; Antel Varas, Greenville, S.C.; Lew Collins, Cincinnati; James Harris, Columbus, O.

All past presidents of the Institute, namely Ed Simpkins of Arcadia, Gene Bried of Millbrae, Merle West of Whittier, Hank Peshon of Walnut Creek, George Lupe of Van Nuys and Gene Janseen of Los Angeles, will be present and speak on a round table program, moderated by Spencer.

Some 200 members and their wives are expected to attend this seventh annual conclave, according to Fay A. Langdon, managing director for Los Angeles, who will be at the El Dorado from the nineteenth on to handle the convention. Richard Mapleton, chairman, is expected to appear on a local air waves show during the convention to discuss the industry.

Your Decorating Problems Answered
By BEN L. WALLACE, N.S.I.D.

Mr. Wallace: pulveda Blvd., Torrance.

I would like to have your opinion on the use of a large mirror in the living room. We have one but just don't know where to hang it. It would go over our sofa or over the fireplace. Where would you hang it? Mrs. R. Toms, Lomita

Mrs. Toms: I am at a disadvantage by not seeing the room or having a little more description of it, but as a general rule you can use a mirror to give you width of length to a room keeping in mind that you only hang a mirror where it is going to repeat something worth repeating, such as a blank wall versus a window with some outside view to it, the answer is obvious.

Mr. Wallace: Would you please tell me what A.I.D. and N.S.I.D. stand for in the decorating business?

Mrs. D. M., Torrance Mrs. D. M. A.I.D. stands for American Institute of Decorators and N.S.I.D. stands for National Society of Interior Designers, two very fine organizations designed to further the decorating profession.

Mr. Wallace: In your opinion what would be the best furniture polish for maple furniture?

Mrs. S. Brown, Torrance Mrs. S. Brown: In my opinion and not sticking my neck too far out, I recommend on any wood furniture that you use a cream polish. There are several fine brands on the market. Cream polish cleans the surface very gently, yet gives a warm lasting luster to the wood. Note: If you have any problems you wish to know about send a card or letter to The Torrance Press, care of Ben L. Wallace, N.S.I.D., 3238 Se-
